

People to People Trips

What is a people-to-people travel?

Thanks to a federal government licensing initiative called “people-to-people travel,” awarded to Explore International by the U.S. Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control, US Citizens can travel legally to Cuba. Therefore Explore International and its authorized trips are real and safe.

One of the favorite in-country travelers experiences are the warm and special connections forged with local people. The opportunities to share a smile, make a friend, and gain a real vision into the Cuban destination.
